The Secret of our Birth Dates
304 pages, hardcover and banderole

ISBN 978-3-8338-1095-4

Johanna Paungger and Thomas Poppe, known by millions of readers for their moon calendars, have put yet another almost lost and forgotten home treasure down on paper: the Numbers' Wheel. For centuries, people have been consulting this source of wisdom for interpreting the destiny of friends, family members and neighbors and making important life decisions.

Unlike astrology, the Numbers' Wheel gazes into the cradle of a human being rather than into the stars. All of the numbers in the birth date reveal information about special skills, traits and talents which in return can be used to guide a person's future, no matter if it's about choosing a partner, a holiday location, a hobby, or a career move. The Numbers' Wheel has helped a lot of people set their course in life.
